Biography

Aaron Larget-Caplan is a daring and visionary classical guitarist and composer celebrated for electrifying performances and fearless programming. Hailed by The Washington Post as "a riveting artist," he has performed more than 1,000 concerts across the United States, Europe, Russia, and Asia. His programs span Bach and the Spanish masters to John Cage, contemporary composers, and his own music. His 12 albums have earned more than 14 million streams, while his arrangements expand the guitar repertoire. Founder of the New Lullaby Project and ¡Con Fuego!, Larget-Caplan creates distinctive, audience-engaging concert experiences and serves on the faculty of New England Conservatory in Boston.
